

Patient Safety Team Training

Learn from Best Practices and Health Catalyst Client Experience

Type: Professional Service

ID: 2910

Revised: 2018-11-15

Before training even begins, Health Catalyst works with your organization to establish a trigger review workflow based on organizational resources, needs, and environment. Then, a train-the-trainer approach will ensure that your organization is ready to operate and sustain the patient safety surveillance work. Training takes place on a fully functioning and configured system using your organization's real data. The workflow, based in best practices and experience, is taught, demonstrated, and practiced by members of your organization's team. The importance of consistent documentation is emphasized and reinforced in subsequent experiential practice and reviews.
